Metropolis Man Predicts More Big Industry Will Come Into This Area

Member of Committee Stresses Value Of Personal Contact With Big Firms

By SAM HANCOCK
United Press Staff Correspondent
METROPOLIS, Ill. (UP)—A member of the Metropolis Industrial Committee says more big industry may come to this area.

William Brannon, insurance man, realtor and member of the committee, says "we have five 'hot' prospects right now."

The improving outlook for Metropolis follows the decision to build a 13 1/2 million dollar uranium salts plant here.

The Allied Chemical & Dye Corp. of New York bought 673 acres of land for the operation, but the Metropolis Chamber of Commerce has leased another 600 acres for possible new industry.

The story of how the Allied plant was obtained for the community is one of personal efforts, Brannon said.

"As a bit of advice to other communities, I can't recommend too highly the value of personal contact in seeking industry," he said. "We never would have landed this one if we had depended on letters and phone calls."

Made Holiday Trip

Brannon works with his brother Allan, Lindell W. Sturgis, and John Koopman of the Metropolis Industrial Committee. Sturgis is a banker. Koopman is vice president of Electric Energy Inc., at nearby Joppa.

This four-man committee made a plane trip to Washington and then to New York last Thanksgiving in an attempt to land the new industry.

The committee had been negotiating with Koppers Inc., of Pittsburgh since July 15, 1956, in the belief that Koppers would get the Atomic Energy Commission contract.

But Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) told the committee that the contract had been awarded instead to Allied.

The committee flew the same day to New York to give the news of the AEC decision to C. M. Brown, president of Allied's general chemical division.

Total Cost Low

The committee said Allied had planned to locate the plant at Nitro, W. Va., if it was the successful bidder. However, the committee was told that, "If you fellows are interested enough in your community to fly here on Thanksgiving Day, we are interested enough to visit your community."

The committee said that it cost only $1,500 to land the industry. Most of that was for transportation. The community put up $10,000 as down payment on a $30,000 tract of land, but Allied will repay that.

The news of the new plant was good for all of southern Illinois whose 16 lower counties have been listed as a surplus labor area continuously since September, 1951. It is among the areas of chronic unemployment for which federal legislation is now pending.

Wants Apology

Young Marine Lieutenant Claims Elvis Presley Brandished Toy Pistol at Him

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—A young Marine apparently does not intend to carry out his threat to have Elvis Presley arrested today. But he said he thinks the rock 'n' roll singer "owes" him an apology for pulling a toy pistol on him.

"I won't file a complaint because he didn't hurt me in any way," said Pfc. Hershel Nixon, 18, of St. Louis, who is scheduled for transfer next Thursday from duty at nearby Millington Naval Air Station.

"But I think Presley owes me an apology because nobody—not even Presley—has a right to pull a pistol on someone, even if it is just a toy."

Presley admitted he brandished the toy that "looked like a 25-caliber pistol," but said the Marine should have realized he was kidding.

"I was smiling when I took it out of my coat," Presley said. "Everybody else standing there knew it wasn't real."

No Judicial Candidates By Democrats

None Nominated For Circuit Judges At Vienna Meeting

The three incumbent Republican circuit judges of the First Judicial circuit today apparently had clear sailing in their bids for reelection.

This was because no candidates were nominated Saturday afternoon at the Democratic Judicial convention held at Vienna.

Last Tuesday the three present GOP judges, C. Ross Reynolds of Vienna, Harold L. Zimmerman of Marion, and Clarence E. Wright of Carbondale, were nominated unanimously at a judicial convention held at Cairo.

Election will be Monday, June 3.

State Rep. Paul Powell of Vienna was chairman of the Democratic convention held Saturday and Atty. John Paul Davis of Anna, formerly of Harrisburg, was the secretary.

It was reported that on the first roll call there were no nominations but after a recess, nominating speeches were made for Atty. Lester Lightfoot of Harrisburg and Atty. Robert L. Landsen of Cairo. Both attorneys declined the nominations.

Landsen was a Democratic candidate for circuit judge six years ago.

Saline, Williamson, Jackson, Pope, Johnson, Union, Massac, Pulaski and Alexander counties comprise the First Judicial circuit.

Mitchell Receives Contract to Expand Ferrell Hospital

The H. E. Mitchell Construction Co. of Harrisburg has been awarded a contract to expand the physical facilities of the Ferrell hospital in Eldorado, the hospital announced today.

The contract calls for a brick addition to the rear of the present two-story brick building. The addition will be of 33 by 32 feet dimensions and will have basement and two stories.

The second floor will be built into a nursery, pediatrics examining room, doctor's lounge, dressing room, shower and private rooms.

The first floor of the new addition will house the kitchen and dining room and the basement will be used for storage of groceries and other items.

All the new part will be air-conditioned. The entire hospital is air-conditioned at present.

Work will begin as soon as weather permits, it was announced.

Woman's Body Almost Devoured By Her 10 Dogs

IONIA, Mich. (UP)—The body of an elderly woman recluse was found Sunday almost devoured by the pack of 10 dogs she kept in her hillside shack on the city's outskirts.

Police said Mrs. Edna Palmer, 66, apparently became ill a few days ago and took to her bed where she died. Her body was discovered by a neighbor, Fred Martinis, who went to Mrs. Palmer's house to investigate when he did not see the woman for four days.

Martinis notified police. The officers had to shoot two of the dogs before they could force their way into the house. The rest of the pack fled into the countryside.

Police said the dogs were shut in the house, unable to get out when the woman died. They said the animals evidently became ravenous and attacked the body.

President Tanned, Rested

Eisenhower Puts Advisers to Work to Implement Decisions of Bermuda Talks

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower, tanned and rid of his cold but not his cough, put his advisers to work today to back up new agreements reached with America's old ally, Britain.

Military sources indicated one of the first results of the Bermuda conference with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will be stepped-up planning for turning over U. S. missiles to the British.

These sources said preliminary discussions already have been held and "something tangible" is expected within the next few months—certainly by the end of the year—within the framework of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

No Atomic Warheads

The sources indicated the most likely missiles to be given the British, for the present at least, will be shorter-range "battlefield" types like the "Honest John" 20-mile rocket, the "Corporal" missile with a 75-mile range and possible anti-aircraft missiles like the Navy's Talos.

The sources emphasized that any missiles handed the British would be without atomic warheads, since the President is forbidden by law to part with these save in time of war.

Agreement on Mideast?

Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said Sunday night he also favors turning over the atomic warheads for the missiles to the British, French, West Germans and all of this country's "true allies."

Bridges said "some restrictions" on use of the weapons should be imposed. But he said if friendly nations do not have atomic weapons, a war might end before they could get them.

This appeared to be the first such proposal from such an influential Republican. There was no indication that Bridges' proposal constituted an administration "feeler" on the issue.

Another subject that will occupy the newly returned President will be efforts to expand the apparent new Bermuda-born understanding on the Mideast into a united British-American front for dealing with the still-troublesome area.

Meanwhile, the Eisenhower-Macmillan offer to exchange nuclear test observers with Russia had little apparent prospect of realization. Diplomatic sources in Moscow said Russia probably will turn it down.

Pump Water Into Reservoirs After 1.65 Inch Rainfall

Rainfall over the week end measured 1.65 inch and today water was being pumped from a full Middle Fork creek into the reservoirs just north of the city.

Harrison Kibler reported that rainfall yesterday and last night measured 1.48 inch. Saturday night rainfall was .15 inch.

Amos Doom, superintendent of the water and sewer department, reported that all three pumps at Middle Fork were started at 3:30 a. m. today.

He added that the north reservoir is about 14 inches from being full and that gates have been opened so that water can flow from it into the south reservoir.

Pumping out of the borrow pits into the reservoirs with the 750-gallon per minute pump has been going on since Feb. 28, he said.

At Least 11 Persons Are Known Dead

Seven States Hit; At Least 4,000 Marooned by Storm

AMARILLO, Tex. (UP)—The worst spring blizzard in memory on the High Plains roared eastward today, but official fear mounted that many persons may be found frozen in mountainous snowdrifts.

The storm took at least 6 lives in the west and 5 more as it swung into the Midwest for a total of 11.

Texas, Kansas and Nebraska reported 2 deaths each. Near Sigel, Ill., five persons were killed in a blinding snowstorm when two cars collided head-on.

The blizzard, which began Friday and started easing on its southern edge at 3 a. m. today, hit seven states—Texas, Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado, New Mexico, Nebraska and Missouri.

As it moved out of Texas and Oklahoma, leaving endless snowfields and deep drifts behind, residents of northern Missouri, northern Illinois and southern Iowa began feeling its fury.

Motorists Fate Uncertain

"We may have a story that's not pretty to tell when we are able to get to some of those cars and get to looking into them," Sgt. R. G. Gravestock of the Amarillo sheriff's office said.

"There may be dozens of motorists lost out there; we just don't know," a spokesman for the Oklahoma Highway Department said. "We can't even get our snowplows through."

He reported the missing in Oklahoma included "fully a dozen" highway workers, including some not heard from since Saturday. Rescue crews in Oklahoma fought drifts up to 30 feet in an effort to get through.

At least 4,000 persons—including 1,500 in the Panhandle of Texas where trees were beginning to bud and the range to get green—were marooned by the storm. Hundreds, perhaps thousands of others, probably were not reported because of broken telephone lines.

Rescue Bus Passengers

All stalled trains and buses were accounted for in Texas. The State Highway Department said that 24 passengers rescued from two buses near McLean, Tex., were believed to be the last marooned in buses. All were "in very good shape."

"We have information that there are two or more buses in the vicinity of Boise City, Okla., but can't contact anybody in that vicinity to confirm it," a spokesman for the Texas Department of Public Safety said.

All roads in the Texas Panhandle were either blocked or "extremely dangerous."

Western Kansas was paralyzed; at least four passenger trains in Kansas were stalled and an esti-

A Freedom

Editorial By William E. Mahoney

The late Philippine President Ramon Magsaysay was a politician in the George Washington tradition.

Thus, in his recent death in a plane crash, the world lost one of its most devoted freedom fighters. Magsaysay had a long and star-studded record as a battler for Philippine welfare and a sworn enemy of the Communists.

A guerrilla fighter during the Japanese occupation of his homeland in World War II, he carried on the fight against the rebellious, Communist-led Hukbong. Where others failed and the Hukbong had the island terrified, he smashed the insurgent movement, weeded out corruption in the army and won an overwhelming majority in becoming president in 1953.

Magsaysay's program of resettlement of malcontents was in recognition of the fact that land hunger was at the root of communism in Asia. Under his program, thousands of former rebels were resettled on the island of Mindanao and reformed into loyal citizens. Filipino cooperation with the United States prospered under Magsaysay. Only a few hours before his death, he made speeches that illustrated clearly his pro-American and anti-Communist feelings.

"You cannot remain neutral," he said. "You have to take a stand."

His stand made clear that "you do not have to be anti-American or anti-foreign to be resoundingly pro-Filipino."

There is no doubt that the death of one of Asia's most bitter enemies of communism has dealt a damaging blow to U. S. policy plans in the Philippines.

A period of political unrest is almost certain for our Pacific friends. But in the meantime, it is comforting to know that the new chief executive, former Vice President Carlos P. Garcia, has always been a staunch supporter of Magsaysay policies.

Motorists, Take a Bow

It would be easy to picture the new-style express highways as intercity "drag strips." Speed limits are high and some have no maximum speeds at all.

You might think the motorist, off his leash, would go speed mad—with glaring eyes and flashing teeth.

But a report on driving speeds on the Ohio Turnpike proves just the contrary.

The limit for cars is 65 miles per hour, 55 for trucks.

Secret radar tests proved that 93 per cent of all traffic was operating at or below the posted limit. Only six-tenths of one per cent was going over 70.

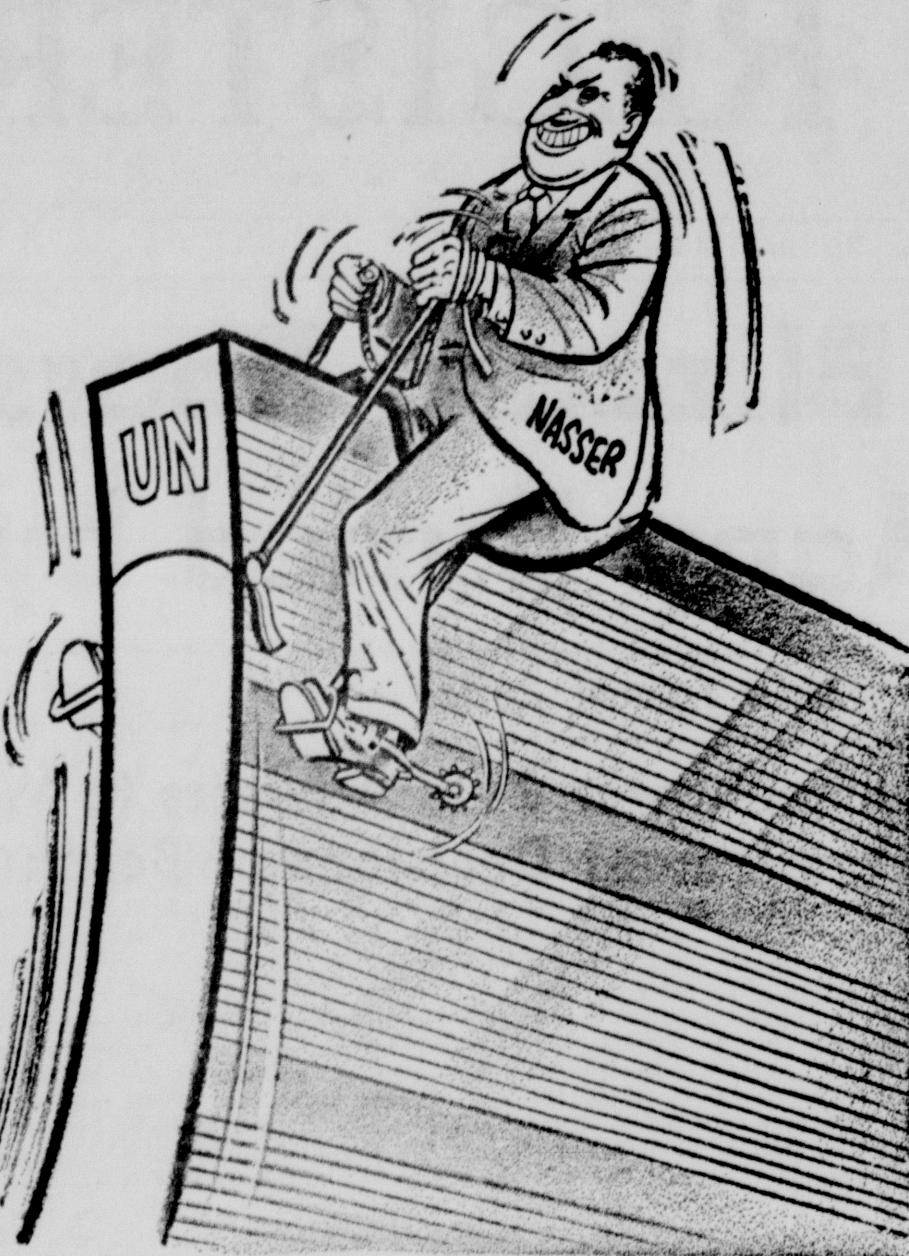

It is more proof that most Americans are law-abiding.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Israel Got Double-Crossed On Withdrawal From Gaza; Eisenhower Sent Personal Letter To Ben-Gurion Inferring O. K. Of Israel's Peace "Assumptions"; Dulles Backtracked After Israel's Troops Were Out.

WASHINGTON. — If you know the full inside story of the hectic negotiations by which Israel agreed to withdraw from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba, you can't escape the conclusion that this little country has been given one of the biggest double-crosses of modern diplomacy.

This may seem an extreme statement but here is the hitherto unpublished record.

Around the middle of last month the Eisenhower administration was worried sick over the position in which it found itself regarding the pending UN vote for sanctions against Israel. It was so worried that the first thing Secretary Dulles did when Premier Guy Mollet of France arrived in Washington was to ask his help solving the UN-Israeli impasse.

"If there ever was a time when the United States needs the good offices of France it's now," Dulles said in effect. During the first three hours of the French-American meetings this was about all the State Department people talked about. Dulles couldn't get Israel and the UN off his mind.

The reason was easy to understand. The Eisenhower administration by this time had got itself into a position where it was demanded by the Arab-Asian bloc if it didn't vote for sanctions, and damned by a majority of Congress plus powerful political forces if it did.

What it needed was a compromise.

The West German government had politely but firmly notified Dulles that Germany would not go along with sanctions. Germany's commitment to Israel, made as a result of Hitler's massacre of 6,000,000 Jews, was a moral one, West Germany told the State Department. Chancellor Adenauer feels the obligation deeply, Dulles was told, therefore the German reparations payments to Israel would continue.

Dulles also knew that France, plus probably Australia, New Zealand, Canada and England would not go along with sanctions. Furthermore, both Senator Lyndon Johnson, the Democratic leader, and Senator William Knowland, the GOP leader, had publicly served notice on the administration that Congress would probably not agree to sanctions.

Finally, the administration was desperately anxious to get the Eisenhower Near East Doctrine okayed by the Senate. Every day of delay hurt the President's prestige both at home and abroad. And it became apparent that Senate leaders were not going to push a vote on the Eisenhower Doctrine until they knew whether sanctions were going to be voted against Israel.

All this was why Dulles literally begged Premier Mollet to help him out of the Near East dilemma.

DULLES GIVES O. K.

In the negotiations which followed, the French suggested that instead of getting a flat guarantee from the UN or Egypt that the Egyptian army would not go back into the Gaza Strip, Israel might base its withdrawal on a series of assumptions of which would be approved in advance by the United States and France.

Israel had been adamant that the thin finger of land extending 26 miles up along the Palestinian coast should not once again become a military base for raids into Israel. It was pointed out that Gaza had never been a part of Egypt, had always been a part of Palestine, and that its unnatural borders resulted from the fact that the Israeli army was halted there by Britain and the United States when the Israelis pushed Egypt out of Palestine in the war of independence in 1948.

So many murderous raids have been conducted from this little finger of land by Egyptian Fedayeen that no Israeli government could long remain in power if it permitted the Egyptian army to re-enter.

As a result of the French suggestion, however, a series of "assumptions" were drawn up by Israeli foreign minister Golda Meir. One "assumption" was that the civil and military administration of the Gaza Strip "will be exclusively by the UN." Another assumption was that the UN administration would continue until "there is a peace settlement."

These and other assumptions were studied carefully in writing and agreed to by John Foster Dulles. He made six or eight changes in the wording. These Israeli

It was also agreed that after Mrs. Meir made her UN speech outlining these assumptions, U. S. Ambassador Lodge should speak and describe as the assumptions as "reasonable."

DULLES IN REVERSE

When Lodge spoke, however, he changed the signals. Instead of calling the assumptions "reasonable" as agreed, he called them "not unreasonable." He also went out of his way to emphasize that Egypt could exercise control over Gaza.

This was what made the Israeli government almost reverse itself and not get out of Gaza after all. An emergency meeting of the Israeli cabinet debated a reversal. They were flabbergasted that the United States should have agreed to the terms of withdrawal, read over the terms of withdrawal, and then reneged on them. A meeting between the Israeli chief of staff, General Moshe Dayan, and UN Commander E. M. Burns was abruptly canceled.

Undoubtedly the cabinet would have reversed its foreign minister's decision in Washington had not John Foster Dulles pulled a diplomatic rabbit out of his hat. He drafted a personal letter to Premier Ben-Gurion, which President Eisenhower cabled to Jerusalem.

The President said what Ambassador Lodge was supposed to say but didn't. He said that the Israeli "assumptions" were "reasonable." He went further and told Ben-Gurion he hoped they would "not be in vain."

This reassured the cabinet. Israeli troops were pulled out of Gaza and Aqaba.

One day after the withdrawal, however, when it was too late for Israel to backtrack, Secretary Dulles told his press conference that President Eisenhower's letter did not mean what the Israelis thought it meant, that he did not endorse all of Mrs. Meir's assumptions.

That's why the Israelis feel they got the biggest double-cross in recent diplomatic history. That's also why Premier Guy Mollet recently remarked:

"This is not the first time France has found herself completely alone in championing a struggling young democracy."

The democracy that France championed in 1776 was the chief dealer of the double-cross to the democracy which France is defending today.

LOST -- 22 POUNDS

"In less than two months I have lost 22 pounds — and I am feeling like a different person," writes Mrs. L. F. Marberry, 230 North Fourth Street, Paducah, Ky. "It is the best way to lose weight I have ever found."

Mrs. Marberry took Bulkette Tablets before meals in order to add harmless bulk to her diet and also to keep her from being hungry between meals.

With bulk in your stomach, your appetite is curbed . . . you automatically eat less . . . lose weight naturally and safely. Yes, Bulkette Tablets are absolutely safe to use — and best of all, they will not cause you to be nervous. Money-back if FIRST $1.50 bottle fails to satisfy.

Senate Committee Approves Bill To Increase '57 Corn Base Acreage

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Senate Agriculture Committee today approved a bill raising the 1957 base corn acreage from 37,300,000 to 51 million acres.

The roll call vote was 8-4. Chairman Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) said he voted against the measure and would fight it vigorously on the Senate floor.

The bill would also direct Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson to study possible means of program for the 1958 crop. He would report back to Congress on it by June 1.

The measure, in effect, would restore for 1957 the price support and soil bank program offered to commercial corn growers in 1956. A similar bill sponsored by Republicans was defeated in the House.

The Senate version would abolish the 37,300,000-acre planting allotment which Benson established for 1957. In its place, the bill would substitute a 51-million-acre planting ceiling for the 24-state "commercial" corn growing area.

The commercial area is concentrated in the Midwest Corn Belt, but it also includes parts of several states in the South and East.

Under terms of the bill, commercial growers who want price supports would be required to put into the soil bank an acreage equal to 15 percent of their new planting allotments.

The soil bank "deposit" could be corn acreage placed in the soil bank acreage reserve or other tillable land placed in the longer-term conservation reserve.

Another provision called for a "thorough study of possible methods of providing an over-all feed grain program" beginning with the 1958 crop. This represented an effort to heal the political split which killed all corn legislation in the House.

House Democratic farm leaders had been willing to increase the corn allotment, but insisted that any bill must also provide expanded soil bank benefits for other feed grains.

House Republicans stood firm with the administration for a corn-only bill. Neither side could muster enough votes to push its measure through the House.

Nixon is Released From Hospital After Treatment for Cold

WASHINGTON (UP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon was discharged from Walter Reed hospital Sunday after being treated for a cold he picked up on his tour of Africa.

Hospital authorities said Nixon was "much improved" and that he was discharged after consultation with his doctors.

Nixon entered the hospital Friday for treatment of tracheobronchitis. The vice president left the hospital Saturday for official duties. He returned that night after attending the annual dinner of the Radio-Television Correspondents Assn.

Problem for Congress

Republican Proposes Commission to Decide When President Incapable

WASHINGTON (UP) — A prominent House Republican proposed legislation today to set up a high-level commission that could decide if the U. S. president was incapable of performing his duties.

The subcommittee has asked Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. to testify. He is expected to recommend that a president, in event of disability, may delegate his powers and duties to the vice president and reclaim them when he has recovered.

Keating said it is "highly desirable" for a president to have such clear authority to turn over his duties to the vice president for the duration of any sickness or other disability.

But his own proposal would go a step farther to cover cases where a president either could not or would not decide he was disabled. In such cases the proposed commission would decide whether the president's duties should be transferred temporarily to the vice president.

The problem of determining presidential inability has bothered Congress for many years. The trouble arises from the fact that the Constitution says the chief executive's duties during the president's inability to perform his duties. But it fails to provide machinery for determining when such inability exists.

President Eisenhower's heart attack in 1955 and intestinal operation last year brought the problem to the fore.

The subcommittee held hearings a year ago. It got almost as many different views as it had witnesses.

Teddy Nadler Brings TV Winnings To $128,000

NEW YORK (UP) — Teddy Nadler, a $70-a-week Army stock clerk, defeated a University of Illinois professor and brought his television quiz show winnings to $128,000 Sunday night.

Nadler, who had a mortgage on his home when he became a quiz show contestant 10 weeks ago, won $32,000 by beating Dr. Austin Ranney on the subject of the Civil War. He also added $8,000 to $88,000 in winnings from previous appearances by tying Mrs. Lowell Thomas Jr., daughter-in-law of the news commentator, on the subject of geography.

Nadler beat his fourth college professor by identifying the battle of Big Bethel when Ranney failed to do so.

Mrs. Thomas and Nadler both correctly identified four rivers that have their sources in the Tibetan highlands.

Nadler, who is from St. Louis, is now third highest quiz show money earner. Leonard Ross, 11, of Tujunga, Calif., won $164,000 and 31-year-old college instructor, Charles Van Doren, won $129,000.

San Francisco Area Cleans Up Quake Damage

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Residents of San Francisco and its suburbs, hopeful that there would be no more big earthquakes for a while, today began repairing the damage left by the biggest temblor since 1906.

Many housewives, aided by their husbands and children, spent the last two or three days sweeping up the broken dishes, glassware and household articles that tumbled pell-mell onto the floors of several thousand homes last Friday.

But today came the more serious problem of cleaning up and repairing cracked plaster, cement foundations, broken windows and other damage to homes and stores.

The quake shook an area of central California roughly between Ukiah, Sacramento and Hollister, but the western part of San Francisco and suburb to the southwest, Daly City, bore the brunt of it.

After the main quake Friday, which had a magnitude of 5.5 on the Richter scale, a series of aftershocks continued to jiggle the area. The University of California counted 120 by Sunday afternoon. As time went on, only sensitive seismographs could detect them.

Illinois Businessmen Leave for Capital to Demand Budget Cut

CHICAGO (UP) — Approximately 50 Illinois businessmen were to leave for Washington late today to demand the federal budget be cut. The trip was organized by the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce.

The group plans to spend four days in Washington contacting members of the Illinois congressional delegation, and members of the Senate and House Appropriations committees.

Plans call for dividing the delegation into teams of two persons who will make personal visits to congressmen and senators.

The state chamber said the businessmen will denounce "unnecessary and wasteful federal spending, largely to blame for the enormous 72-billion-dollar budget."

Ormond F. Lyman, executive president of the state chamber, said the trip "actually was inspired by the many Illinois businessmen who are expressing concern and resentment at the federal government's reckless abandon in spending taxpayers' money."

"What better way is there," Lyman asked, "to convince congressmen that Illinois businessmen are dead serious about chopping the budget than to tell them so face-to-face?"

Members of the delegation include: Louis Ratzesberger Jr., Hoopes-ton, president of the state chamber, and president of the Illinois Canning Co.

Everett F. Kent, manager and partner, Kent Lumber and Coal Co., Bloomington.

William H. Hartke, president Litchfield Creamery Co., Litchfield.

The Peoria delegation includes Carl Hensing, assistant cashier, First National Bank; Ruben A. Redard, purchasing agent, Keystone Steel and Wire Co.; Max Rowe, assistant to secretary, Caterpillar Tractor Co.; and W. E. Stone, division manager, Central Illinois Light Co.

At least 23 businessmen from Chicago, Chicago Heights, Evanston, Melrose Park and Skokie also planned to make the trip.

In order to identify myself to those of you who do not know me, may I say that I am 47 years of age and the son of Everett and Alice Tuttle, life-time residents of this community. I am married to the former Miss Ilene Vaughn and we have one daughter, Mrs. Carlene Hinant.

I have had 31 years experience in meeting the public as a grocery sales clerk and as operator of my own grocery business for the past 19 years. I also had the honor of being elected and served four years as the Street and Alley Commissioner of the City of Harrisburg.

I am a member of the Dorrisville Baptist Church, the Masonic Lodge and the I. O. O. F.

I believe that my experience in the City Government and the many years of meeting the public in my work at earning a living have fully qualified me for the job I am now seeking. Certainly as a taxpayer, home owner and family man, I am very much interested in an economical and business-like administration of our Township and County's business.

I am fully aware of the duties of the Supervisor as Overseer of the Poor and understand clearly that Chapter 102-Paragraph 3 of the Illinois Revised Statutes would make it unlawful for me, if I am elected, to accept relief orders written to my store by myself or any of my employees.

North Carolina Wins NCAA Title After Two Triple Overtime Periods

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — North Carolina's Tar Heels squeezed through two triple overtime periods to win the NCAA basketball championship and Coach Frank McGuire admitted today "it's uncanny how we could have kept our undefeated season going."

McGuire was preparing to coach the East squad in tonight's East-West Shrine all-star game here and for the hubbub over fights during the national championship game to die down.

"We were lucky, awfully lucky all season long in the close games," he said, "but our boys always kept their poise and came through in the clutch. I guess that's the mark of champions."

The Tar Heels had to go through three overtimes to top Michigan State in the semi-finals, 74-70, and through three more to win the national championship from Kansas, 54-53, Saturday night.

But when it was all over, Coach Dick Harp of Kansas and all others agreed that North Carolina truly is the nation's No. 1 team.

The tense, drama packed championship game brought on two scuffles among the players and two more between the coaches.

The first was between Pete Brennan of North Carolina and Wilt Chamberlain of Kansas, and a flagrant foul was called on North Carolina. The second saw Tommy Kearns of North Carolina take a swing at Gene Elstun of Kansas, for another flagrant foul.

In between, McGuire was accused of, but denied, yelling at Harp "You phoney you, I'll punch you right in the eye."

McGuire did say that a Kansas assistant coach Jack Eskridge "rushed up and shoved me."

North Carolina won the game with juniors, an indication the Tar Heels might shoot for a second straight crown next season to match San Francisco's record.

McGuire had only two seniors on the team that ran up 32 straight wins this season, All-America Lennie Rosenbluth and Bob Young.

Joe Quigg, a 6-9 junior, won the title game for North Carolina with a pair of free throws with six seconds left in the third overtime. He sealed Kansas' fate by batting down a pass to Chamberlain on the post with three seconds left.

San Francisco, champion the past two years, ended up in third place in the NCAA playoffs by downing Michigan State 67-60.

South Bend Wins Indiana Crown

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—South Bend Central won the Indiana high school basketball tournament Saturday by stopping Indianapolis Attucks' bid for a record-trying third consecutive title, 67-55.

Central's Bears went all season undefeated to take the crown.

Central beat Lafayette, 54-36, and Attucks downed Terre Haute Germeyer, 85-71, in afternoon semi-finals.

Celtics Advance To Title Play

By United Press

The Boston Celtics were safely berthed today in the championship round of the National Basketball Association playoffs, and the St. Louis Hawks will try to join them by beating Minneapolis a third straight time tonight.

The Celtics completed a 3-0 sweep of the Eastern Division playoffs Sunday afternoon in Boston with an 83-80 victory over the Syracuse Nationals as Bill Sharman led the way with 23 points.

At St. Louis, Cliff Hagan and Bob Pettit led the Hawks to a 106-104 win over the Minneapolis Lakers with Pettit's three-point play the key to the triumph. Tonight, the scene shifts to Minneapolis for the third game in the best-of-five series.

Bradley Wins NIT; Sees High Rating Next Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Bradley's "rich" National Invitation Tournament championship will be even "richer" next season — probably battling NCAA champion North Carolina and Kansas for the No. 1 national basketball ranking.

"We should be a better team next season," Bradley Coach Chuck Osborn proclaimed in the wake of his Braves' 94-83 win over Memphis State in Saturday's NIT final, and the "experts" were quick to agree with him.

"We don't lose anybody at all from this year's team," the rookie coach pointed out. "And in addition, we have stars coming up from a freshman team that had an unbeaten 15-0 record."

Three-Pointer Wins It

Leading the parade of returning stars will be Shellie McMillon, whose three-point play with 29 seconds left clinched the title game, and Barney Cable and Bobby Mason, both named to the All-NIT team. They're backed up already by so many strong players that Memphis Coach Bob Vanatta conceded, "They just had too many shooters for us—every one was a scoring threat down to the sixth and seventh men."

The future isn't quite as bright for Memphis State's gallant "Upset Kids" who came heart-breaking close to grabbing the top prize in their very first NIT appearance. The Tigers lose only two men—but they are "most valuable player" Win Wilfong, and hard-driving little Jack Butcher, also an all-tourney selection. The only non-finalist to make the all-NIT team was Guy Roeggers of Temple. The Owls won consolation honors by defeating St. Bonaventure, 67-50.

George Bartisch is called the father of modern ophthalmology. He lived in the 16th century and wrote what is believed to be the first textbook on the subject.

Herrin Cheers Champion Tigers

Tidwell, Bethel Top Voting for All-Star Team

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Centers Terry Bethel of Collinsville and John Tidwell of Herrin topped the voting for places on the United Press all-tournament first team at the Illinois prep basketball tournament.

Completing the team selected by coaches of the eight quarterfinalists were forward Tom Jackson, Collinsville; guard Dave Tremaine, Evanston and forward Gary Kane, Elgin.

Named to the second team were forward Bill Kurz, Quincy Notre Dame; guard Francis Clements, Ottawa; center Al Williams, Galesburg, and guard Dick Bickhauf, Quincy Notre Dame. Tied for the fifth spot on the second team were two Herrin forwards—Ivan Jefferson and Jim Gualdoni.

Others receiving votes were Roger Trimpe, Quincy Notre Dame; Bob Parkins and Gerry Varland, Ottawa; Bob Hoffman, Galesburg; Jim Soehke, Collinsville; the Wilhoite brothers—Ernie and Tracy, Collinsville; John Easterbrook, Champaign; Dock Box and Willie Williams, Herrin; Ralph Lindenmann, Ottawa; John Flynn, Quincy Notre Dame and Chuck Brandt, Elgin.

BASEBALL? WHAT'S THAT?—Catcher Joe Lonnett of the Phillies had a bit of trouble getting ready for an exhibition game when a contestant in a "Miss Clearwater" contest passed into view at the Philadelphia club's Florida training camp. Lonnett was far from alone.

Yogi Berra Swings Big Bat as Yanks Beat Dodgers, 14-4; Cardinals Blank Braves, 1-0

By United Press

Yogi Berra is swinging that big bat again—and it's no coincidence that the New York Yankees are looking like world champions again.

Even a pre-game ligament sprain suffered by Mickey Mantle was glossed over as the Yankees pounded out 16 hits for a 14-4 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers Sunday to even the "Spring World Series" at one game each. Mantle's injury—he stepped in a gopher hole while running in the outfield—is expected to sideline him for a week but is not considered serious.

With Mantle out of action, it was up to Berra to swing the big stick for the Yankees and he did just that—hammering out a triple, double and two singles in six trips to knock in five runs.

Art Ditmar and Bobby Shantz, Kansas City's winter gifts to the champions, divided the pitching chores for the Yankees and limited the Dodgers to eight hits.

Tom Morgan and Tom Gorman, both former Yankees, collaborated in a one-hit pitching job that paced the Kansas City Athletics to a 4-0 win over the Washington Senators. Morgan yielded the hit—a single by Eddie Yost in the fifth inning.

Sam Jones, obtained in a winter deal with the Chicago Cubs, hurled seven shutout innings without issuing a walk and struck out six as the St. Louis Cardinals beat the Milwaukee Braves, 1-0.

Vic Wertz' three-run homer and three-hit pitching by Herb Score and Don Mossi enabled the Cleveland Indians to whip the New York Giants, 4-3.

Chisox Slams Redlegs

The Pittsburgh Pirates scored their ninth win in 14 games when they beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 5-3, behind the eight-hit pitching of Ron Kline and Bob Purkey. The Pirate infield reeled off five double plays to compensate for three errors.

Moe Drabowsky and Tom Poholsky tossed a seven-hitter as the Chicago Cubs downed the Baltimore Orioles, 8-2.

Dave Philley's three-run first-inning homer sparked the Chicago White Sox to an 8-1 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs that ended a four-game Chisox losing streak.

Ray Boone, Harvey Kuenn, Frank Bolling and Reno Bertoia homered as the Detroit Tigers walloped the Toronto Maple Leafs, 15-3, and Heywood Sullivan's two-run, 10th-inning homer gave the Boston Red Sox a 5-4 decision over the San Francisco Seals in other games.

Victory Celebration in Gym Follows Parade; 10,000 Line Streets

By SAM HANCOCK

United Press Staff Correspondent

HERRIN, Ill. (AP)—The Herrin Tigers ruled today as the best in Illinois prep basketball.

Herrin reclaimed the state high school basketball crown for southern Illinois Saturday night with a 45-42 victory over previously undefeated Collinsville in the state tournament at Champaign.

The victory was sweet revenge for the Tigers, beaten earlier in the season by one point by Collinsville.

Tonight, the squad will be honored at the annual banquet of the Herrin Basketball Fans Committee, and a packed house is expected.

Some 400 persons planned to attend the feast and officials feared additional reservations would swell the crowd. Because of the limited capacity at Herrin high school for the banquet, it was moved to St. Mary's school gym.

The Tigers received a tremendous welcome on their return home Sunday. Both players and the crowd were oblivious to the driving rain which soaked the town. Get Heroes Welcome Horns honked, sirens screamed and fans cheered during a parade through town and a victory celebration in the high school gym.

Police estimated 10,000 persons lined the streets to cheer the victors, and about 100 cars joined a motor caravan at nearby Zeigler to escort the champs home.

City and civic officials vocally applauded the team in the welcoming ceremonies at the high school.

Mayor Dave H. Miller called the squad "the best team in the best city in the state," adding that "we were pulling for you all the way."

Gov. William G. Stratton sent the team his congratulations by telegram. It read: "All Illinois is thrilled at your well-earned victory. Please accept my personal congratulations to you and your coach, Earl Lee."

Coach Lee said he was proud of the squad. "It has been a wonderful year and a wonderful tournament," he said.

"The only way I can account for this state championship," he said, "was that you people in Herrin not only were pulling for us but were praying for us."

Center Johnny Tidwell, named to the United Press All Tournament first team, received a standing ovation at the gym and predicted Herrin would retain its cage crown next year.

His teammate and co-captain, Ivan Jefferson, said the hope of playing in a state tournament was the "goal" of his life. "But I never dreamed we'd win," he said.

Herrin won the title by knocking off several court powers in tournament play, including the undefeated squads of Elgin and Collinsville. The last time Herrin was in the state final was in 1940 when it placed second.

After gaining a 22-20 lead at the conclusion of the first half, Herrin and Collinsville fought on even terms through the second half. They were deadlocked 32-32 at the end of the third period, and at 36-36 with less than five minutes to play in the final period.

Herrin moved into front and widened its margin. Collinsville wasn't able to keep pace and fell behind as the Tigers kept the pressure on until the final gun.

Record Try Falls

Terry Bethel, Collinsville 6-7 star center, was handicapped in the game, drawing three fouls in the first period and was benched for the second period. Bethel, however, played the second half and fouled out in the closing minutes.

Bethel scored 113 points to lead all tournament scorers, but his total fell eight short of the record set by Ted Ciazza of LaGrange in 1953 with 121.

Collinsville gained the finals in quest of its 35th straight victory with a 69-61 victory over Ottawa in the semifinals Saturday afternoon. It was a close game, and Collinsville had trouble getting the ball into Bethel under the basket. The Ottawa Pirates held a slim lead several times before the Kahoks moved in front to stay in the final period.

Herrin had an easier time, routing Quincy Notre Dame, 68-47. Quincy remained on the Tigers' heels during the first two periods and trailed by only two points. At the intermission, 30-28.

The rout began with the start of the third period as Herrin moved to a 40-30 lead and was never threatened thereafter.

In the consolation game for third place, Ottawa defeated Quincy Notre Dame, 65-64, in an overtime contest. Guard Gerry Varland popped in the winning basket with three seconds to play in the overtime period after Notre Dame center John Flynn pushed in at the end of regulation play.

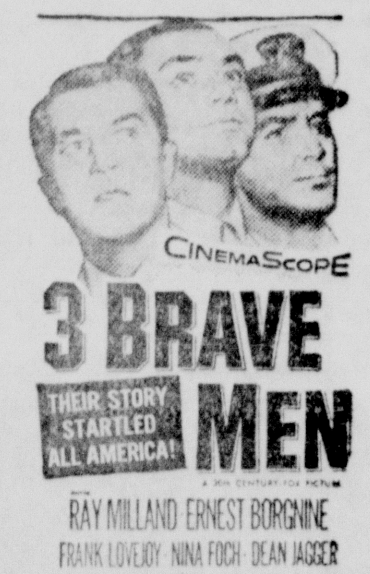

Notre Dame moved in front in the overtime and was holding a 64-63 edge when Varland got his game-winning basket. Flynn attempted a desperation shot, but the ball hit the rim and bounced out as the gun sounded.

An Old Hand At It

Rep. Gray to Train Wives Of 35 Congressmen in Fine Art of Auctioneering

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Kenneth J. Gray School of Auctioneering, featuring a one-man faculty of the same name, opens for a one-day semester here April 5.

Gray, representative of Illinois' 25th District, will conduct a course on auctioneering with 35 wives of other congressmen as his pupils. The "graduates" will display their skills May 15 at a charity auction here for the benefit of the Capital Hill Settlement House.

The 32-year-old West Frankfort, Ill., Democrat is an old pro at auctioneering, but this is the first time he has undertaken to give instruction in the fine art of platform patter.

"I started when I was 15 years old," Gray said. "By the time I was 17, I knew the lingo, but it takes years of practice to really learn to be an auctioneer."

Practice, Gray said, is one of the "three P's" of successful auctioneering. The others are "Personality"—"You've got to convince them you're not trying to take their shirts," and "Patience"—"You can't get mad at someone and say 'He isn't going to buy anything' because he might be the high bidder on the next item."

Keep Lungs in Shape
Most of Gray's experience has been in automobile auctioneering, but he also has sold everything from mattresses to mules. He hasn't been an active auctioneer however, since his election to Congress from the southern Illinois district in 1954.

In the big auto auctions, Gray said, 200 to 300 cars would change hands between noon and sunset, requiring rapid-fire selling and a durable larynx.

"I doubt if I could last more than 15 minutes at one of those now," he said. "I've been off of it for more than two years and you've got to keep the lungs in shape."

Before entering politics, he said, he was auctioneering three days a week in Missouri and operating his own new and used car business at West Frankfort.

The good auctioneer, Gray said, won't try to push bidding far beyond the owner's value of the item, but sometimes bidders will outfox themselves trying to "get something for nothing."

A Magician, Too

He said he presided over one farm auction where the owner brought two old boxes out of the basement "filled with stuff you wouldn't take home if it was offered to you free." The tools, picture frames and old kitchen utensils in the boxes actually brought a total of $39 from the bargain-hungry crowd at that auction, Gray said.

Gray is also a magician, and pulled off a sleight of hand trick in the last session of Congress that had his colleagues gaping. He produced a bouquet of artificial red roses during a speech on the interstate highway bill, plucked off the blooms one by one to illustrate what happened to the bill in the previous session, and then suddenly made a whole new set of white blossoms appear to demonstrate what passage of the bill would do "to these barren stems."

"That probably didn't have anything to do with the bill passing," Gray said, "but it certainly helped the atmosphere in the House after a full day of listening to speeches."

Open Extradition Hearings for Bennie Bedwell

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—A representative of Gov. William G. Stratton today opened extradition hearings for Bennie Bedwell, wanted in Florida on charges of raping a 13-year-old girl.

Bedwell, the Skid Row itinerant dishwasher, confessed and then repudiated a confession in which he said he murdered the Grimes sisters in Chicago. He was represented here by his attorney, David E. Bradshaw, Chicago.

The hearing was held by Atty. Paul A. Hansen of the state legislative reference bureau, as a personal representative of the governor.

Hansen said he will hear evidence in the case and make a report to the governor, who must make the decision as to whether Bedwell will be turned over to Florida authorities.

He said Stratton would perhaps question Bedwell himself if he wanted more information than was available from the hearing. Florida authorities issued a warrant for Bedwell just as he was being cleared of charges in the Grimes murder in Chicago, and Bedwell has been held under $100,000 bond.

Bedwell was charged with raping the girl at De Land, Fla., when he was working as a carnival roustabout there several years ago.

Hansen said under the law the Florida charge presented a prima facie case against Bedwell, and it was up to Bedwell to show cause why he should not be extradited for prosecution.
